

SIMULATED REALITY CRICKET

Introduction

Simulated Reality draws on the company's vast sports data and artificial intelligence know-how to simulate cricket. Full scoreboard information will be provided so the match can be followed by the punter, while a full offering of Premium Cricket markets will be available to bet on. T20 matches will be offered in their full and normal form, with every ball updated and available to bet on. Each match will last around two hours.

How it Works

Exciting game-play featuring life-like competitions

Delivered through the current Premium Cricket integration

Based on historical stats to drive realistic narratives

Full scoreboard available through the Premium Cricket Score API

Two hour T20 matches, every ball covered
